The selection is based on a good food product, a resume that represents what the member has gained from their experience.

Food Product: If there is any question about the safety of the food product, it will not be tasted. That is why the recipe is important. Food handling is important. Wrapping, handling, and food temperature affect the quality of the food product.

Resume: The 4-H/FFA member will need to follow the format for the resume.

The member selected to sell the cake will be notified as soon as the judging is completed. The member will be asked to prepare another cake from the same recipe for the sale, and to appear in the sale ring with their entry. All rules for the Junior Livestock Sale will apply.
